

Dr. Rajiv Bahl

Secretary, Department of Health Research & Director General, Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR)

Public-records due-diligence report: legal cases, allegations, scams and controversies (open and closed) that name or directly involve him

Item	Detail
Date compiled	01 October 2026
Period covered	Full career, 1984-2026: medical training, AIIMS/ICMR (1994-2002), WHO Geneva (2003-2022), DG-ICMR (Oct 2022 onward), plus personal/non-official matters
Sources	Indian Kanoon (Supreme Court, High Courts, CAT, NGT orders); Google News index; WebSearch; primary news articles; ICMR/government pages; Wikipedia
Records reviewed	~25 court/tribunal orders naming Dr. Bahl; 50+ news and web searches in English and Hindi; ~20 primary articles
Nature of report	Compilation of public records with citations. Not legal advice. Allegations are reported as allegations, not as findings.

Bottom line

1. No criminal case, FIR, chargesheet, CBI/ED/Vigilance probe, Lokpal/CVC complaint, or corruption/fraud/scam allegation against Dr. Rajiv Bahl personally was found in any searched court database or news source.

2. He is named in 22 court and tribunal orders/matters, all in his official capacity (as DG, ICMR / Secretary, DHR). Almost all are contempt petitions by ICMR employees or ex-employees alleging non-compliance with service-law orders (pay, regularisation, pension, contract re-engagement). This is routine: the head of a government body is usually named as respondent or 'alleged contemnor'. Every one of these contempt petitions found was closed, withdrawn, dropped or not pressed. No tribunal or court held him or ICMR guilty of contempt.

3. One adverse ruling on an administrative action under his authority: CAT Bangalore (30.10.2025) quashed four suspension-extension orders against an ICMR scientist, including one issued by the DG-ICMR as Disciplinary Authority, as procedurally invalid (Section 4.1). It does not allege personal misconduct.

4. Main public controversy: in May 2024 he signed ICMR's letter disowning a BHU study on Covaxin side effects and warning of 'legal and administrative action'. Critics saw this as pressure on vaccine-safety research. The journal retracted the paper in Sept 2024. A separate Rs 5 crore defamation suit was filed by Bharat Biotech, not by Dr. Bahl or ICMR (Section 6.1).

5. Official-capacity involvement (not allegations; listed for completeness at your request): NGT cancer-chemicals case (he appeared personally), a Delhi HC rare-disease committee, a Supreme Court stem-cell judgment he moved to enforce, and a vaccine-injury group's letter tied to a Bombay HC filing (Section 5). A further Supreme Court contempt notice (Sept 2025) was issued to the office of DG-ICMR in the Bhopal gas victims' medical-care case (Section 4.3).

6. Full career and personal matters (1984-2026): no allegation, case, complaint or scandal was found from his AIIMS years (1994-2002) or WHO years (2003-2022). That covers WHO staff-tribunal judgments, oversight, conflict-of-interest and research-ethics checks. No land scam, property fraud, financial fraud, FIR or company-related matter can be tied to him. Private court cases involving other men named Rajiv Bahl were checked: two are ruled out or almost certainly different people, one is undetermined, and none is attributed to him (Sections 8-9).

2. Methodology and important caveats

- Court records: full-text searches on Indian Kanoon for "Dr. Rajiv Bahl", "Dr Rajiv Bahl", "Rajiv Bahl" + ICMR / "Director General" / "Indian Council of Medical Research" / "Department of Health Research" / contempt, plus the misspelling "Rajiv Bhal". Each relevant order was downloaded and read in full [72].
- News: Google News index queries for "Rajiv Bahl" with court, complaint, allegation, controversy, contempt, probe, scam, legal, notice and criticism, plus the Hindi spelling of his name. Further web searches covered Lokpal/CVC/corruption, RTI/CIC, whistleblower complaints, recruitment irregularities, deepfake/impersonation scams, conflict of interest (WHO/Gates), the ICMR data leak, the BHU Covaxin study and the sudden-deaths study.
- Name collision: Indian Kanoon returns 800+ hits for "Rajiv Bahl". Most involve other people: a Delhi advocate named Rajiv Bahl (e.g. JVG Finance, Koshika Telecom, Moolchand Khairati Ram Trust) and private family/property litigants (e.g. Rajiv Bahl v. Vinay Kumar Bahl, Rajiv Bahl & Ors v. State, 2011). These were excluded from Sections 4-7, which include only records naming him with an ICMR/DHR designation. Private namesake cases are examined separately in Section 9.
- Limits: Indian Kanoon does not index every order (many district-court and some tribunal orders are missing). Sealed matters, internal departmental complaints, Lokpal/CVC complaints and RTI replies are usually not public. Some major Indian outlets (The Hindu, Indian Express, Times of India, Hindustan Times, Mint) block automated retrieval, so their reports were seen only through headlines in news indexes. 'Nothing found' means nothing in public sources searched, not proof that nothing exists.
- Fairness: Being named as 'respondent' or 'alleged contemnor' in a service dispute is not evidence of wrongdoing. Outcomes are reported exactly as recorded in each order.

4. Court and tribunal matters naming Dr. Bahl as a party

Pattern: all 22 entries are service-law disputes, and 20 are contempt petitions alleging that ICMR had not complied with earlier orders. The usual explanation recorded is compliance through a later 'speaking order' or payment. No order found records a finding of contempt, a fine or costs against Dr. Bahl. In some matters relief came only after the contempt petition was filed. For example, #16 records that six applicants got their MACP upgrade after contempt notices were issued.

4.1 Adverse ruling: Dr U. Sreehari v. Union of India & Ors (CAT Bangalore, 30.10.2025)

Background (admitted facts in the order): Dr Sreehari, Scientist-D and Officer-in-Charge of the ICMR-NIMR field unit in Bengaluru, faced a 2020 sexual-harassment complaint from a project staff member (the complaint was against Dr Sreehari, not Dr. Bahl). A Rule 14 CCS (CCA) charge sheet followed on 30.12.2022. He had been compulsorily retired in 2021, was reinstated by CAT and then suspended the same day (23.02.2023). The suspension was extended several times. The extension of 26.12.2023 was issued by 'Director General, ICMR & Disciplinary Authority'. CAT stayed it on 09.01.2024. An order of 18.10.2024 signed 'Dr. Rajiv Bahl, Director General, ICMR & Disciplinary Authority' treated 07.11.2023 to 03.03.2024 as deemed reinstatement with full pay [22].

Holding: The suspension reviews and extensions were not done and communicated before each earlier period expired, as Rule 10(7) CCS (CCA) Rules requires. The extension orders of 05.07.2023, 29.08.2023, 16.10.2023 and 26.12.2023 were quashed. Dr Sreehari was to be treated as on duty from 23.05.2023 to 06.02.2024 with full pay and allowances, payable within 3 months [22].

Assessment: this is a procedural finding against ICMR's disciplinary process, including one order issued under the DG's authority as Disciplinary Authority. It does not find bad faith, corruption or personal misconduct by Dr. Bahl. No appeal by ICMR was found in the indexed records.

4.2 Supreme Court contempt: Shivkumar Shrinarayan Prajapati v. Dr. Rajiv Bahl & Anr.

This was the only Supreme Court matter found with Dr. Bahl as the named party. It alleged non-compliance with an SC order of 04.05.2023 arising from SLP (C) 1555-1556/2022 (the underlying dispute is not described in the indexed orders). Notice issued 13.10.2023. On 06.11.2023, counsel for 'alleged contemnor no. 1' said the order had been complied with. On 01.12.2023 a bench of Bela M. Trivedi and Satish Chandra Sharma, JJ. found compliance through ICMR's office order of 30.11.2023 and closed the contempt proceedings. ICMR was represented by ASG Aishwarya Bhati [1, 2, 3].

4.3 Supreme Court contempt notice: Bhopal gas victims' medical care (Sept 2025)

On 26.09.2025 a bench of P.S. Narasimha and A.S. Chandurkar, JJ. issued notice on a contempt plea in Bhopal Gas Peedith Mahila Udyog Sanghathan v. Union of India (W.P. 50/1998). Notice went to the Director General, ICMR, the Secretary of the Union Health Ministry, the Madhya Pradesh Chief Secretary and the Principal Secretary of the state's Bhopal Gas Tragedy Relief & Rehabilitation Department. The plea alleges non-compliance with the Supreme Court's 2012 directions on medical care for gas victims and computerisation of their medical records. Its complaints include doctor vacancies at Bhopal Memorial Hospital & Research Centre and a records system that is 'neither patient-centric nor provides comprehensive treatment history'. It also notes that the Madhya Pradesh High Court had criticised the authorities' 'callous approach' [55, 56]. The next date was 14.11.2025.

Assessment: the notice is addressed to the office of DG-ICMR, which Dr. Bahl held at the time, together with three other senior officials. He is not named personally in the reports. Unlike the service disputes above, this concerns a long-running public-health obligation. Its later outcome could not be found, so it should be treated as possibly still pending. Check Supreme Court case status before relying on it.

5. Official-capacity involvement in other proceedings (non-adverse)

You asked for these to be kept because they show involvement. In each matter below Dr. Bahl or his office plays a role, but no allegation is made against him. Each entry states only what the record shows about his role.

Matter	His role per the record	Status	Ref
NGT, O.A. 717/2024: suo motu case on an NDTV report about cancer-causing flame-retardant chemicals (TCEP, TDCIPP, TCIPP) inside cars	ICMR is respondent no. 3. On 23.05.2025 Dr. Bahl appeared personally (by VC) . He told the Tribunal ICMR can test blood/urine of exposed taxi drivers versus unexposed people but needs certified reference standards, and undertook to file timelines. NGT ordered an affidavit within 8 weeks, excused his further appearance on his assurance an expert would attend, and listed the matter for 26.09.2025.	Pending at last indexed order	[25]
Delhi HC, W.P.(C) 16270/2024, Kiara Rawat v. Union of India (rare-disease treatment funding under NPRD-2021)	On 28.10.2025 the Court constituted a committee to oversee the rare-disease crowdfunding platform, with Dr. Bahl as Chairperson . Its tasks include steering CSR/PSU funds and implementing NPRD-2021, meeting monthly. On 09.01.2026, on an application citing protocol, Dr. V.K. Paul (NITI Aayog) became Chair and Dr. Bahl stayed a member . The Court asked the committee to act 'expeditiously'.	Ongoing (court-supervised committee)	[26, 27, 28]
Supreme Court, Yash Charitable Trust v. Union of India, 2026 SCC OnLine SC 131 (30.01.2026): stem-cell therapy for autism	SC held stem-cell therapy for autism cannot be offered as routine or commercial treatment, only in approved trials. Reports say Dr. Bahl, as Secretary DHR, asked the NMC to comply . The NMC advisory of 25.03.2026 was issued on ICMR recommendations.	Judgment final; advisory issued	[29, 30, 31]
Awaken India Movement letter (20.07.2023), filed alongside IA (St) 12276/2023 in Kiran Yadav, W.P. 6151/2021, Bombay HC (vaccine-injury litigation)	Letter addressed to Dr. Bahl asking ICMR to warn the public of alleged vaccine-linked sudden deaths. It does not allege personal wrongdoing by him . Whether he or ICMR is a respondent in W.P. 6151/2021 could not be confirmed. Related Bombay HC orders found (Ambar Koiri / Serum Institute, 2023) do not name him.	Status of Bombay HC IA not verified	[32]

Leads checked and excluded (no involvement shown):

- Tamil Nadu medical-college excess-fee probe panel (July 2026): a news index matched it to his name, but the article does not mention Dr. Bahl or ICMR [53].
- Supreme Court EWS free-treatment case (Union of India v. Moolchand Khairati Ram Trust, 2026): the 'Rajiv Bahl' in these orders is an advocate appearing as counsel, not the ICMR DG [54].
- 'One Health Mission work is in progress: ICMR DG's letter to MP' (Indian Express, 10.09.2026): headline seen in the news index, but the article could not be retrieved, so its contents (including any complaint by the MP) are unverified. Worth checking manually.

6. Public controversies involving his own actions

6.1 BHU Covaxin study: letter warning of 'legal and administrative action' (May 2024)

Facts. BHU researchers (Dr Upinder Kaur, Dr Shankha Shubra Chakrabarti and others) published a one-year observational study in Drug Safety (Springer Nature). About one-third of 926 Covaxin recipients reported 'adverse events of special interest' [44]. In a letter dated 18 May 2024, signed by Dr. Bahl as DG, ICMR [39, 40]:

- demanded removal of the paper's acknowledgement of ICMR: "You have acknowledged ICMR for research support without any prior approval or intimation to ICMR, which is inappropriate and unacceptable" [39];
- called the study 'poorly designed': no unvaccinated control arm, telephonic follow-up a year later without clinical verification [40, 45];
- asked the authors to explain "why the ICMR should not take legal and administrative action against them" and asked the editor to retract or publish an erratum. Reports quote ICMR: "Failure to do so may prompt ICMR to consider legal and administrative action" [39, 41, 42].

What followed. The authors denied malicious intent and said the phase-IV study had ethics approval [44]. Drug Safety retracted the paper on 24 Sept 2024 because the editor 'no longer has confidence in the conclusions'. The authors disagreed [43, 44]. Bharat Biotech, ICMR's co-developer of Covaxin, filed a Rs 5 crore defamation suit in Hyderabad against the authors and the journal editor. About 600 scientists and citizens signed an open letter calling the suit 'harmful for science' [43, 44].

Assessment: this is the most significant public controversy tied to Dr. Bahl's own conduct. Critics read the warning of legal action as a chilling signal to independent vaccine-safety research, especially because ICMR co-owns Covaxin. ICMR's position was that it was wrongly credited and the method was flawed. No legal action by ICMR or Dr. Bahl against the authors was found. The defamation suit is Bharat Biotech's, and he is not a party to it.

6.2 Other public positions that drew criticism (official capacity)

- Excess-deaths study (July 2024): he publicly dismissed a Science Advances paper estimating about 1.19 million excess deaths in India in 2020. The Health Ministry called its estimates 'untenable and unacceptable' [57]. This is a policy and scientific dispute, not an allegation.
- Indian child-growth standards (2023): he chaired an expert meeting on India-specific growth standards. Critics warned that lower standards could understate stunting [58]. This is a policy debate, not an allegation.

7. Institutional controversies during his tenure (not allegations against him)

7.1 ICMR Covid-19 test data leak (Oct 2023)

In October 2023, a threat actor ('pwn0001') offered for sale records said to cover about 81.5 crore Indians (names, phone numbers, addresses, Aadhaar and passport details), claimed to come from ICMR's Covid-19 testing database. The leak was flagged by US firm Resecurity; CERT-In alerted ICMR [47]. The CBI took up the probe. Delhi Police arrested four men, who were later also booked for separate 'data brokering'. Police said how the data was obtained was still being probed and that the data came from 'various organisations' [46, 48]. No public source found names Dr. Bahl as accused or blames him personally. It is an institutional data-security failure that happened under ICMR's watch during his tenure.

7.2 Covid-19 vaccines and 'sudden deaths' debate (2023-2025)

ICMR-led studies (2023; and an ICMR-AIIMS study publicised July 2025) found no link between Covid-19 vaccination and unexplained sudden deaths in young adults [49, 51]. In July 2025 Karnataka CM Siddaramaiah publicly suggested hasty vaccine approval could be linked to heart-attack deaths in Hassan district, and the Centre rebutted him citing ICMR/AIIMS work [50]. Vaccine-injury groups also petitioned ICMR (Section 5) [32]. These are policy and scientific disputes about ICMR's findings, not allegations of misconduct by Dr. Bahl.

7.3 ICMR-IRIS research-metric reform

His 'Publication-Equivalent' (ICMR-IRIS) scoring system drew academic debate in IJMR letters (e.g. over citation-based distortions between disciplines). This is ordinary scholarly criticism, not an allegation [52].

7.4 Pre-tenure ICMR audit finding (for context)

CAG Report 26 of 2022 found ante-dated promotions of 14 scientists at ICMR-NICED Kolkata (2009-2019), with about Rs 2.07 crore in irregular payments. The period is before Dr. Bahl joined ICMR as DG, and he is not implicated [59].

8. Full-career review (1984-2026)

You asked for his whole career, including the WHO years, to be checked. Each period was researched separately: court databases, the ILO Administrative Tribunal (which hears WHO staff disputes), Retraction Watch/Crossref, PubMed, journal correspondence, and English and Hindi news indexes.

Period	Role (per official profiles)	Allegations / cases found	Notes
1984-1999	MBBS, University College of Medical Sciences, Delhi (1984 batch); MD Paediatrics, University of Delhi (1993); PhD, AIIMS (1999)	None	Pre-2003 Indian Kanoon hits for 'Rajiv Bahl' are the Delhi advocate of that name [60, 37]
1994-2002	Scientist, ICMR Advanced Centre for Diarrhoeal Disease & Nutrition Research, AIIMS New Delhi (zinc, vitamin A, breastfeeding trials with N. Bhandari, S. Taneja, M.K. Bhan)	None	No ethics, consent or placebo complaints found about his Delhi-slum zinc/vitamin A trials or the Haryana breastfeeding trial. The national vitamin A policy dispute of that era does not name him [65]
2003-2012	WHO Geneva: Medical Officer, Dept of Child & Adolescent Health and Development; in charge of newborn and child health research	None	ILO Administrative Tribunal: 0 judgments mention 'Bahl' [61]. No WHO oversight, harassment or conflict-of-interest material names him
2013-2022	WHO Geneva: Head of Research, Maternal, Newborn, Child & Adolescent Health (and Ageing)	None	Trials he co-led (AFRINEST/SATT antibiotics, ACTION-I steroids, iKMC) drew scientific debate in journal letters on design, diagnosis and early stopping. None alleges misconduct or an ethics breach [62, 63, 64]
Oct 2022-present	Secretary, DHR & DG, ICMR (extended to Oct 2027)	Official-capacity matters only	See Sections 4-7

Research integrity: no retraction, expression of concern, plagiarism or misconduct finding was found on his papers. A PubMed check found one retracted paper by a 'Bahl R' (BJOG 2023, PMID 37303275), but it is by a UK obstetrics team, a different person, and is not attributed to him. No errata or expressions of concern were found for his WHO-era trials. Web searches for misconduct, plagiarism and authorship disputes returned nothing. Limitation: a full download of the Retraction Watch database (via Crossref) could not be completed at the time of writing, so that check rests on PubMed and web searches.

Limitations for older periods: 1990s Indian newspaper archives are mostly offline. Internal AIIMS/ICMR inquiries and WHO oversight investigations are not published. ILO Administrative Tribunal judgments are anonymised and rarely name supervisors, so a nil result there cannot rule out a staff dispute in which he was a supervisor. Swiss court records cannot be searched online by party name.

9. Personal / non-ICMR matters: land, property, fraud

Court databases and news (English and Hindi) were searched for any Rajiv Bahl linked to land, property, plots, the DDA, fraud, cheating (IPC 420), FIRs, cheque bounce, partition or arrest. Company-director records were also checked. Every private case found involving a 'Rajiv Bahl' was examined for identifying details. No case is attributed to Dr. Bahl without concrete identifying evidence.

Case	Subject	Is it the ICMR DG?	Evidence	Ref
Delhi HC, FAO 327/2007, Rajiv Bahl & Ors v. State (decided 25.01.2011)	Probate of the estate of Smt. Ram Piari (14 Kautalya Marg, Chanakyapuri). Appellants lost; the codicil they relied on was held 'fabricated' (civil probate finding, not a criminal finding against a named person)	Ruled out (high confidence)	The judgment says appellants' father Dinesh Bahl 'married a German lady and settled in America since 1972' and his family was not expected to settle in India. Dr. Bahl studied and worked in Delhi without a break from the 1980s to 2002	[66]
Delhi HC, W.P.(C) 1110/2020, Rajiv Bahl & Anr v. GNCTD (order 20.07.2022)	Challenge to a Delhi government demolition on 31.12.2019 of 12 bighas 3 biswas in Village Asola; sent to the Deputy Commissioner for demarcation. No fraud allegation	Almost certainly not (not formally proved)	Court records show a different Rajiv Bahl, a businessman who co-founded Fun Foods (sold to Dr. Oetker, 2008) with his wife Vibha Bahl, living at Asola Homes, Chhattarpur. Dr. Bahl was at WHO Geneva in 2019	[67, 68, 69]

Case	Subject	Is it the ICMR DG?	Evidence	Ref
Delhi HC, CS(OS) 116/2026, Rajiv Bahl v. Vinay Kumar Bahl & Ors	Civil suit, subject not stated in orders; defendants seek rejection of plaint; next date 05.11.2026	Undetermined	Orders are procedural only, with no addresses or professions. Rajiv Bahl is the plaintiff ; no allegation against him	[70]
Delhi HC W.P.(C) 6423/2026; CIC appeal 2019-20	Leave entitlement of a Department of Agriculture employee; RTI appeal	No	A different person (agriculture ministry employee)	[71]
Various Delhi HC / SC matters	Rajiv Bahl appearing as advocate (JVG Finance, Koshika Telecom, Moolchand Khairati Ram Trust, etc.)	No	A practising Delhi advocate	[54]

Result: no land scam, property fraud, financial fraud, FIR, Economic Offences Wing case, DDA dispute, cheque-bounce case or arrest can be tied to Dr. Rajiv Bahl. No company directorship was found for him; the only 'Rajiv Bahl' director record (DIN 00074263) belongs to the Fun Foods founder. Other namesakes found in news (a US emergency physician, an author, a cybersecurity executive, a private-equity professional) are different people. Limits: his official profiles do not publish his parentage or address, and the Delhi HC case-status portal (party addresses) needs a captcha. Certified copies of the pleadings in CS(OS) 116/2026 would settle that case. Immovable-property returns of Secretaries were not found online.
